EDAMBA Summer Research Academy 2016

Academic Program

Monday 18th of July:

1. Startup session

2. Lecture: Hans Siggaard Jensen: Challenges for Management and Business Research in a Postmodern Knowledge Economy

3. Lecture: Deirdre McCloskey: Virtue Ethics as a Moral Foundation for Business and Management Research and Thinking

4. Group work: Challenges and Values in Management and Business Research (Gill Wright)

5. Plenary Session: Reports and Discussion

Tuesday 19th of July:

1. Lecture: Eduard Bonet: Management Research seen in the Tradition of Liberal Education and the Values of Business Schools

2. Lecture: Knut Ingar Westeren: What is the Knowledge Economy and how does it matter to Management and Business Research

3. Student Presentations

4. Student Presentations

Wednesday 20th of July

1. Lecture: Dimitris Assimakopoulos: Knowledge and Innovation in the Present Knowledge System – an Example of Interdisciplinary Research

3. Student presentations

4. Student presentations

5. Lecture: Deirdre McCloskey: Rhetoric and Management Research

Thursday 21st of July

1. Parallel Working Student Groups:
   Narratives, Case Studies, Issues in Quantitative Research etc. (depending on the participants and their papers)

3. Student presentations

5. Guest Lecture: Social Science that Matters (Professor Bent Flyvbjerg, Oxford) (not confirmed)

Friday 22nd of July

2. Wrap up session

Social program:

Welcome reception: Sunday the 17th of July 19.30

Welcome dinner: Monday the 18th of July 20.00

Gala dinner: Thursday the 21st of July 20.30
Faculty:

Professor Dimitris Assimakopoulos, Grenoble School of Management
Professor Pierre Batteau, IEA, Aix-en-Provence
Professor Eduard Bonet, ESADE
Professor John Ulhøi, Aarhus University
Professor Hans Siggaard Jensen, Aarhus University
Professor Deirdre McCloskey, University of Illinois at Chicago
Professor Knut-Ingar Westeren, Nord University, Norway/University of Wisconsin-Madison
Professor Gillian Wright, Manchester Metropolitan University

Guest Lecturer: Professor Bent Flyvbjerg, Said School of Business, Oxford University