EDAMBA Thesis Competition 2016

1st Prize
Sancha Cristina, ESADE Business School - University of Ramon Llull
Extending Sustainable Practices along the Supply Chain

2nd Prize
Josefsson Magnus, Manchester Metropolitan University
Social Foundations of Sense Making: Four Case Studies

3rd Prize
Crisafulli Benedetta, Kingston University
Customer Perceptions of Guarantee Policies and Employee Behaviour in Service Recovery:
An Investigation of Justice, Signaling and Attributions

Croce Valeria, Vienna University of Economics & Business Administration
Experts' Predictive Power - An Empirical Study on Expert Forecasting

The following dissertations have been distinguished (with no ranking):

Lindahl Olof, Uppsala University
Influences on Transfer Effectiveness: An Exploratory Study of Headquarters Transfer of Capabilities to Subunits in the Multinational Corporation

Razum Andrea, University of Zagreb
Sustainability Marketing as an Antecedent of Business Performance

Juricic Denis, University of Ljubljana
Exploring the Relationships between Financial Indicators and the Opening of Insolvency
Proceedings

Tuori Annamaria, HANKEN School of Economics
Doing Intersectional Identity Work: Social Categories, Inequalities and Silences

Kutaula Smirti, Cardiff Business School, Cardiff University
The Role of HR Practices, Leadership and Co-Worker Support in Psychological Contract
Fulfilment: An Examination of Direct and Interaction Effects

Li Pira Stefano, Ca' Foscari University of Venice
Three Essays on Competitive Dynamics and Imitation