The Making of Doctoral Supervisors

International Case Studies of Practice

Edited by Stan Taylor, Durham University, UK,
Margaret Kiley, Australian National University, and Karri A. Holley, University of Alabama.

With a wide range of international contributors, this book surveys how the main doctoral awarding countries across the globe define criteria for the eligibility of supervisors. It compares and contrasts their approaches, comments upon their robustness and identifies examples of good practice. Written by a distinguished international team of authors, The Making of Doctoral Supervisors will be of interest to all those engaged in doctoral education including policy-makers, programme leaders, supervisors, administrators, and scholars in the field.
